

NeighborImpact

Supporting People. Strengthening Communities.

Dear Friends,

Every day, people come to NeighborImpact for a little help. No one asks for much. They need enough to carry them through an emergency or beyond emergencies altogether: help with the rent or a utility bill or to avoid foreclosure; basic financial education or homebuyer education or a loan for a down payment. They ask just enough to live well. "Enough" - we all want that.

When they cross our threshold, the persons we serve struggle to contain their despair, their worry and, often, their tears. But, they leave relieved, having had help. Our role is to provide enough to restore stability, confidence, and hope. We can do that because of your support.

The Annual Report in the "About Us" section of our website highlights the value of our work and the results that arose from partnerships with people like you. Something inspired them to care and then to act to help others. Something about crisis and survival that they experienced, saw, read, or heard in a conversation or in a song or in a speech stuck with them. They understand that with the right kind of help, and enough of it, people in crises find their way out. Someone listens, takes their hands and walks them through the fear, the fog, or the dark. Because we come through, donors have trusted NeighborImpact to be that guide.

You and we are united by a desire for a community where everyone can grow and live well. We are bound together by the work ahead of us and by a vision of a future built on hope. Today, I ask that you build that future with us. I ask that you make as generous a donation as you can to give those we serve some relief, some help, and some hope. Just enough.

For the greater good,

Suzette Chapman
Chief Development Officer
